

2019 MAJOR – International Communication

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Arts with the degree of Bachelor of Laws)

The major in International Communication covers issues around the international communication industry (e.g. public relations, policy and development campaigns) and global media including convergent technologies. Areas of study include transnational and intercultural communication, and communication for social change. Students will be able to reflect on their own contribution to social justice, equity and sustainability as a global citizen. Courses are taught by international staff who bring a broad range of disciplinary and professional perspectives to their teaching. The major enables students to meet challenges in real world contexts.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:
