

2019 MAJOR – French and Francophone Studies

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Arts)

Students completing a major in French and Francophone Studies develop proficiency in French across a range of modes of communication. They gain an understanding of the society and culture of the countries where French is spoken. Students learn about cultural differences, analyse the relationship between language and culture, and apply skills in cross-cultural communication. The French and Francophone Studies major has a distinctive cross-cultural approach and includes opportunities for innovative modes of learning including online delivery, in-country studies and internships.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:

- You must also meet the general requirements for the degree for which you will qualify.
- It may be possible to satisfy the requirements of your degree by taking a different selection of units in your first session from those suggested above.
- To progress to Intermediate French from Introductory French you must complete FRN125 or FRN131 in Session 3.
- * Only students with previous knowledge of the language will be able to commence their language major in Session 2 and must seek advice from their academic advisor prior to enrolment, except students who have completed HSC Beginners Band 4-6, who should enrol directly into FRN123. All other students should commence their language units in Session 1, 2020.*
- Consider what units you will want to study in second and third year. Prerequisite requirements for those units must be completed prior to enrolment in the higher-level unit.
- You must select a Professional and Community Engagement (PACE) unit as part of the elective component of your degree. It is important to plan ahead for this requirement and allocate elective space for your chosen PACE unit. A list of eligible units is available at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2019/Units/PACE.
- For a double major complete required units for both majors where possible in the first year. If considering a double
