

2019 MAJOR – Gender Studies

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Business Administration with the degree of Bachelor of Arts)

Gender studies is an interdisciplinary field that puts gender at the centre of analysing big questions about our selves and our society. What does it mean to be female, male, or other-identified in the world? In what ways do gender norms control us and how can we be free? How do other identities like sexuality, race, class, religion and disability intersect with gender to create complex power hierarchies? We explore these questions through examinations of the structures and cultures that inform our lives, from family, home and work, to science, politics, policy, the media, the environment and popular culture. You can choose units from a wide range of disciplines in the social sciences and humanities including anthropology, cultural studies, english, history, law, linguistics, media, philosophy, politics, Russian studies and sociology.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:
