

2019 MAJOR – Sociology

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Business Administration with the degree of Bachelor of Arts)

The sociology major focuses on the dynamics of social relationships and the processes of social change in contemporary societies. Topics include gender and sexuality, social inequality and social policy, criminology, care and human services, globalisation and the social foundations of economic life, migration and multiculturalism, media and the arts, work and employment, and the relationships between our private and public lives.

A unique combination of applied social research and social theory enables an in-depth understanding of culturally diverse social environments and our rapidly evolving world. This major gives students highly valued research and practical skills. They will learn to link social theory with empirical facts, design research and apply research methods, and to analyse collected data. Social research skills are in high demand in a diverse range of fields including public policy, social policy, human resources, community activism, social planning and industrial relations. Students are encouraged to connect with careers and communities via internship and work-integrated learning opportunities.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:
