

2019 MAJOR – Human Resources

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Commerce with the degree of Bachelor of Laws)

A legal and commercial understanding of business will give you a competitive edge in your career. Macquarie Law will give you knowledge of legal principles and the critical and analytic skills to really understand them. You will study established areas such as constitutional law and contract law, and also contemporary areas such as consumer law and environmental law.

With its emphasis on understanding the processes and techniques that create and maintain high-performing, efficient and ethical organisations, the human resources major gives you the work-ready skills and the technical knowledge needed to become an HR specialist. The major addresses aspects of day-to-day operations, strategic planning and decision-making.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:
