

2017 MAJOR – Chinese-English Translation and Interpreting

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Global Business)

Students completing a major in Chinese-English Translation and Interpreting develop proficiency in translating and interpreting between English and Chinese across a range of modes of texts. They gain an understanding of the society and culture of the countries where English and Chinese are spoken. Students learn about cultural differences, analyse languages in use based on linguistic aspects and culture, and apply skills in translation, interpreting and cross-cultural communication. The Chinese-English Translation and Interpreting major has a distinctive cross-cultural approach and includes opportunities for innovative modes of learning including online delivery and on-spot practice.

The table below is a suggested first year program guide to support your enrolment. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2017 Handbook:

- You must also meet the general requirements for the degree to which you will qualify.
- It may be possible to satisfy the requirements of your degree by taking a different selection of units in your first year from what is suggested above.
- * The translation and interpreting units are for Chinese background speakers or students who have passed HSK 5 or at equal level
- Consider what units you will want to study in second and third year. Prerequisites on those units must be completed prior to enrolment in the higher unit.
- For a double major complete required units for both majors where possible in the first year. If considering a double major consult the criteria found at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Majors.
- All students must complete one People unit and one Planet unit. Criteria and available units can be viewed at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Units/Planet and www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Units/People.
- You can receive specific program advice from the faculty at any stage in your degree by lodging a “Program Advice” enquiry via <http://ask.mq.edu.au>.
