

2017 MAJOR – Community Services

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Psychology (Honours) with the degree of Bachelor of Human Sciences)

This major is designed to provide graduates with a flexible range of skills and knowledge relevant to a number of occupations within the community health and welfare sectors. It has an interdisciplinary focus with studies from both a sociological and psychological perspective. It also provides an opportunity to select a focus on a particular age group. This major complements the Psychology component of the double degree, especially for those students hoping to work in the community sector.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2017. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2017 Handbook:

- You must also meet the general requirements for the degree to which you will qualify.
- It may be possible to satisfy the requirements of your degree by taking a different selection of units in your first year from those suggested above.
- Consider what units you will want to study in second and third year. Prerequisite requirements for those units must be completed prior to enrolment in the higher unit.
- For a double major complete required units for both majors where possible in the first year. If considering a double major consult the criteria found at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Majors.
- All students must complete one People unit and one Planet unit. Criteria and available units can be viewed at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Units/Planet and www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2017/Units/People.
- You can receive specific program advice from the faculty at any stage in your degree by lodging a “Program Advice” enquiry via <http://ask.mq.edu.au>.
- Progression to honours is completed in the 5th year, subject to a specified level of high achievement. On completion of this degree, students are able to proceed to postgraduate training in psychology and towards registration as a psychologist.
