

2019 MAJOR – Environmental Law and Management

(Qualifying Major for Bachelor of Laws)

This major will enable students to acquire understanding of domestic and international environmental law. They will also gain knowledge and skills for research and professional practice in environmental law and sustainable development, international environmental law, local government and planning law, climate change law, the relationship between trade and environment law, environmental litigation and mediation, and biodiversity law.

The table below is a suggested first session for students beginning in Session 2, 2019. Please make your selection of units after reviewing the requirements of your award in the 2019 Handbook:

Suggested First Session

Session 2, 2019

Unit Code	Unit Name
ENV118	Environmental Management for a Changing World
LAW115	Foundations of Law
ACSH100	Academic Communication in the Social Sciences and Humanities
Elective	Choose an elective unit

- You must also meet the general requirements for the degree for which you will qualify.
- It may be possible to satisfy the requirements of your degree by taking a different selection of units in your first session from those suggested above.
- Please note that you should enrol in LAW109, LAWS104 and LAWS108 in 2020.
- Consider what units you will want to study in second and third year. Prerequisite requirements for those units must be completed prior to enrolment in the higher-level unit.
- You must complete a Professional and Community Engagement (PACE) unit with a LAWS prefix as part of your degree. Plan ahead by viewing eligible units with a LAWS prefix at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2019/Units/PACE.
- For a double major complete required units for both majors where possible in the first year. If considering a double major consult the criteria found at www.handbook.mq.edu.au/2019/Majors.
- You can receive specific program advice from the faculty at any stage in your degree by lodging a “Program Advice” enquiry via <http://ask.mq.edu.au>.
